

Madeline Lenhausen

Work Experience

Graduate Student Researcher / Personality Change Lab

University of California, Davis | 2018 – 2022

- Designed and conducted studies to gain insight into human behavior
- Designed and implemented online surveys
- Analyzed data and reported results for multiple projects at a time
- Presented results to varying audiences
- Mentored lower-level graduate students on data analyses

Graduate Teaching Assistant

University of California, Davis | 2018 – 2022

- Held formal review sessions guiding students in learning subjects including but not limited to personality psychology, social psychology, human development, and statistical methods of psychology
- Managed and facilitated college courses: created assignments, conferenced with and evaluated students, collaborated with professors on curriculum design

Research Consultant / Skillprint

Skillprint, Inc. | January 2020

- Communicated personality research to app developers
- Created in-game scenarios and validity questions for personality assessment to be implemented in the app

Lead Research Assistant / Child Emotions Lab

Michigan State University | 2015 – 2018

- Entered, sorted, and coded quantitative and qualitative data
- Conducted child temperament visits and completed child temperament assessments
- Created questionnaires
- Trained and mentored entering research assistants

Contact

✉ lenhausen14@gmail.com

☎ (586) 817-2473

📍 Sacramento, CA

🌐 <https://www.linkedin.com/in/madeline-lenhausen-b72492121/>

Education

➤ Ph.D. Psychology
University of California, Davis
June 2022

➤ M.A. Psychology
University of California, Davis
June 2021

➤ B.S. Psychology with High Honor
Michigan State University
May 2018

Languages and Tools

- R
- MPlus
- Qualtrics
- Excel
- Word
- SQL (SQLite)
- SPSS
- Python

Skills

Research and Data

- Designing and implementing surveys
- Obtaining and analyzing large-scale longitudinal and panel data
- Advanced statistics and quantitative analyses (e.g., linear, polynomial, and logistic regression, ANOVA, structural equation modeling, multilevel modeling, etc.)
- Reviewing relevant literature

Presentation

- Data Visualization (R, Excel, PowerPoint, Keynote)
- Writing up reports of results
- Presenting and conveying results to a variety of audiences and collaborators